WELCOME!

We're glad you're here. At the University of Denver, we believe that universities have a crucial role to play in improving our society's understandings of the immigrant communities that have built our state and that continue to improve our lives together. We recognize that the University of Denver is built on the lands of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe peoples, and we strive to create a welcoming and inclusive environment to honor that heritage. We recognize that universities are spaces of great privilege and opportunity, and we strive to live up to the responsibilities that universities share in creating a thriving future.

We are happy that you have chosen to engage in activities that will give you opportunities to learn and to share your knowledge through storytelling that is grounded in evidence and rich in human detail. We are also glad to recognize that people from many community organizations and other campuses who have also come together to make this event possible. Thank you for partnering with us on this endeavor, and we look forward to seeing what you and others will develop!

WELCOME TO THE ESTLOW CENTER FOR JOURNALISM AND NEW MEDIA'S 2019-2020 ANVIL OF FREEDOM AWARD LECTURE

Friday, September 27, 2019

8:00 – 9:45 AM

AAC, Room 290

*Featuring Cindy Carcamo,
Los Angeles Times*

About Cindy Carcamo

Cindy Carcamo is a journalist with the Los Angeles Times covering immigration issues. Previously, she was Arizona bureau chief and a national correspondent for The Times, focusing on border and immigration issues in the Southwest. A Los Angeles native, she has reported in Argentina and Mexico during her time as an Inter American Press Assn. scholar and as a reporter for the Orange County Register. She's also reported from Guatemala and Honduras where her coverage was part of a team Overseas Press Club Award. She is also the recipient of the French-American Foundation's 2012 Immigration Journalism Award and was a finalist for the 2012 PEN Center USA Literary Award in Journalism and 2011 Livingston Award.

About the Ed & Charlotte Estlow Center for Journalism & New Media

Each year, the Estlow Center works with industry professionals and academic leaders to select the Estlow lecturer and recipient of the Anvil of Freedom Award. The honoree is invited to serve as a keynote lecturer at a universitywide event, which recognizes outstanding contributions to journalism and democracy and also speaks with classes and student groups during his or her visit to campus, thus providing opportunities for deeper learning among students, faculty, staff and members of the public. The event forges interdisciplinary and cross-institutional connections and enables the University of Denver to serve as host for a fulsome exploration of the state of journalism and its evolving relationship to the democratic self-governance so central to U.S. identity.

The Estlow Lecture began in 1993, and the Anvil of Freedom award first was presented in 1997. The award is given to the Estlow lecturer in recognition of his or her superior leadership and commitment to ethics, integrity and democratic freedoms, especially the protection of the First Amendment.

WELCOME TO THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT (FOIA) WORKSHOP

Friday, September 27, 2019
10:30 – 12:30 PM
AAC, Room 301

Featuring Lisa Rosenberg, Executive Director of Open the Government

Secretive and unaccountable government policies and practices have been a hallmark of recent immigration enforcement actions. To help shine a light on the immigration system, Open the Government is offering a training program during Colorado Migrahack 2019, to empower advocates, journalists, students and other interested communities to use Federal and State laws such the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) to uncover facts about the interplay between local governments and the larger immigration system. Participants will work together to determine what type of data or records would be most useful for their work, then collectively create and file information requests seeking the information. OTG will act as a clearinghouse to track information requests, help with appeals, and analyze responses.

About Open the Government:

Open the Government is an inclusive, nonpartisan coalition that works to strengthen our democracy and empower the public by advancing policies that create a more open, accountable, and responsive government.

About Lisa Rosenberg:

Lisa Rosenberg is an experienced nonprofit advocate and expert in transparency in government issues. Lisa's career in public service includes eight years advocating for transparency to promote accountability at the Sunlight Foundation, launching many of the organization's advocacy initiatives. Find out more about Lisa at <https://www.openthegovernment.org/who-we-are/>.

WELCOME TO THE COLORADO MIGRAHACK COMMUNITY ROUNDTABLE

Friday, September 27, 2019

4:00 – 6:00 PM

AAC, Room 290

Community leaders working with immigrant communities are invited to join Migrahackers to share their expertise and mingle with people who are developing multimedia stories. Community leaders will talk about their backgrounds and then will want to hear from the Migrahackers about their progress on their projects so far. This will be a great opportunity to find out about how immigrants' lived experiences relate to the data we've been working with, and connect Migrahackers with potential interviewees to humanize their stories.

Sponsored by DU's Center on American Politics and IRISE (Interdisciplinary Research Institute for the Study of (In)Equality)

WELCOME TO THE COLORADO MIGRAHACK CLOSING RECEPTION

Saturday, September 28, 2019

5:00 – 7:00 PM

The Tuscan Ballroom | DU Hospitality Building
2055 E. Evans Avenue, Denver CO

*Featuring Adán Medrano,
Chef and Food Writer*

About Adán Medrano:

Adán Medrano is a chef and food writer as well as an award winning film producer who focuses on the culinary traditions of the Mexican American communities of Texas. As he writes, "The Mexican cuisine of Texas opens insights into how 15,000-year Indigenous traditions suffered from and successfully dealt with immigrant colonial peoples who arrived 500 years ago. Colonial immigrants forcibly brought African slaves to the Americas. African traditions eventually met Native American peoples, and tastes and communities were formed, nourished by a new cuisine." He celebrates and shares this cuisine as a means of showing the way towards a better understanding of what it means to be "American."

Scholarship (DULCCES) and DU Grand Challenges*
